ACADEMIC SYNERGIES IN THE FOOD VALUE CHAIN
FUTURE COLLABORATIONS BETWEEN HIGHER EDUCATION INSTITUTIONS

Dear researchers, teachers, and colleagues with intrest in the food system,

There is great value in bringing people together to exchange ideas and explore new collaborations. Since our last gathering in November 2025, several initiatives have emerged, including a joint FORMAS application. We are pleased to invite you to continue the conversation. Whether you joined us last time or not, you are warmly welcome.

This gathering focuses on academic collaboration across the food value chain, bringing together different perspectives and expertise. The food system's complexity creates opportunities for collaboration across disciplines, institutions and research areas. Whether you're involved in food system research or keen to contribute, we hope you will join.

17 November, 9.00–16.00
